

Please add my voice to all the millions of people who do NOT want ANY telephone solicitations - political, telecommunications companies, banks or anyone else. There should be a national do not call list that restricts all telephone solicitations. We are constantly bombarded with advertising on tv, radio, print and internet sites. Companies have plenty of avenues to solicit business from us without having to barge into our homes via our private telephone numbers. I personally do not list my phone number and only want to receive calls from individuals and companies to which I give my number. Additionally, it should be a crime for a company to which I've given my number, to sell that to others.

Thank you for your consideration.
